2nd October 2026

What we've been learning recently

English – In English, we are moving on from our Place Value of Punctuation and Grammar unit and beginning our first non-fiction unit. We will be putting our grammar and punctuation skills into practice as we create our own non-chronological reports. This will link closely with our Science learning about living things and their habitats, giving us the opportunity to research, organise and present factual information in an engaging way.

Maths – In Maths, we will continue to build our knowledge and confidence with the four operations, including tackling long division. We will also enjoy some real-life maths lessons, helping us to see how our mathematical skills can be applied to everyday situations.

Wider Curriculum – In our wider curriculum, we will be exploring Bletchley Park through Computing, developing our coding skills and becoming confident young coders. In Art, we will be focusing on perspective drawing and exploring the work of artist Stephen Wiltshire, using his detailed cityscapes as inspiration for our own artwork.

Over the next fortnight we will be...

- Continuing our PSHE unit, Being Me in My World.
- Continuing our Maths learning around addition, subtraction, multiplication and division.
- Creating an artist study on Stephen Wiltshire and exploring his approach to perspective drawing.
- Developing our coding skills in Computing through our exploration of Bletchley Park.
